Global Information Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan
Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand Related Content

The Role of Virtual Multicultural Teams in Corporate Culture www.igi-global.com/chapter/role-virtual-multicultural-teams-corporate/4512?camid=4v1a

Electronic Business Research in Small Businesses: A Global Perspective www.igi-global.com/chapter/electronic-business-research-small-businesses/18962?camid=4v1a

Influence Mechanisms That Leverage Participation Quality in a Professional Virtual Community: The Social-Relationship Perspective Hung-Pin Shih and Echo Huang (2015). Journal of Global Information Management (pp. 77-100).
www.igi-global.com/article/influence-mechanisms-that-leverage-participation-quality-in-a-professional-virtual-community/141565?camid=4v1a

The Role of Power Distance and Explanation Facility in Online Bargaining Utilizing Software Agents www.igi-global.com/article/role-power-distance-explanation-facility/3605?camid=4v1a