Global Information Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan
Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand Related Content

Structuring Information Systems-in-Use: Studying the Replication of an E-Procurement System through a Practice Lens www.igi-global.com/article/structuring-information-systems-use/73786?camid=4v1a

The Cultural Construction of Information Technology Vanessa Dirksen (2001). Journal of Global Information Management (pp. 5-10). www.igi-global.com/article/cultural-construction-information-technology/3548?camid=4v1a

Information Systems Effectiveness in Small Businesses: Extending a Singaporean Model in Canada www.igi-global.com/article/information-systems-effectiveness-small-businesses/3628?camid=4v1a

Gender and ICTs in Zambia www.igi-global.com/chapter/gender-icts-zambia/18968?camid=4v1a