Global Information Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan
Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Related Content

Globalization and E-Commerce: A Cross-Cultural Investigation of User Attitudes www.igi-global.com/chapter/globalization-commerce-cross-cultural-investigation/4564?camid=4v1a

Reunification of the Wendat/Wyandotte Nation at a Time of Globalization www.igi-global.com/chapter/reunification-wendat-wyandotte-nation-time/19180?camid=4v1a

IT Industry Development and the Knowledge Economy: A Four Country Study www.igi-global.com/article/industry-development-knowledge-economy/3614?camid=4v1a

A Composite-Model for E-Commerce Diffusion: Integrating Cultural and Socio-Economic Dimensions to the Dynamics of Diffusion
www.igi-global.com/chapter/composite-model-commerce-diffusion/19153?camid=4v1a