Global Information Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan
Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Related Content

Flexible Global Software Development (GSD): Antecedents of Success in Requirements Analysis
www.igi-global.com/article/flexible-global-software-development-gsd/3680?camid=4v1a

www.igi-global.com/chapter/strategy-turned-into-action/19080?camid=4v1a

Information Technology Professional Career Development: A Progression of Skills
www.igi-global.com/chapter/information-technology-professional-career-development/4549?camid=4v1a

Knowledge Management and Electronic Commerce Supporting Strategic Decisions: The Case of Taiwan
www.igi-global.com/chapter/knowledge-management-electronic-commerce-supporting/29812?camid=4v1a