Global Information Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan
Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand Related Content

Envisioning a National E-Medicine Network Architecture in a Developing Country: A Case Study www.igi-global.com/chapter/envisioning-national-medicine-network-architecture/28620?camid=4v1a

Understanding Brand Web Site Positioning in the New EU Member States: The Case of the Czech Republic www.igi-global.com/chapter/understanding-brand-web-site-positioning/20482?camid=4v1a

Leapfrogging an IT Labor Force: Multinational and Indigenous Perspectives www.igi-global.com/article/leapfrogging-labor-force/51329?camid=4v1a

Understanding Internet Banking Adoption and Use Behavior: A Hong Kong Perspective www.igi-global.com/chapter/understanding-internet-banking-adoption-use/4572?camid=4v1a