Global Information Technologies:
Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan
Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Related Content

Evaluation of Information Infrastructures and Social Development Among the Visegrad-Four Countries of Central Europe
www.igi-global.com/chapter/evaluation-information-infrastructures-social-development/19110?camid=4v1a

Evaluating the Factors Affecting DSS Usage by Senior Managers in Local Authorities in Egypt
www.igi-global.com/article/evaluating-factors-affecting-dss-usage/3623?camid=4v1a

Expense and Exposure: Virtual Global Education for Tomorrow
www.igi-global.com/chapter/expense-exposure-virtual-global-education/63842?camid=4v1a

Using Social Development Lenses to Understand E-Government Development
www.igi-global.com/article/using-social-development-lenses-understand/3634?camid=4v1a