Global Information Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan
Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Related Content

Information Systems Project Failure: A Comparative Study of Two Countries
www.igi-global.com/article/information-systems-project-failure/3570?camid=4v1a

Global Internet Marketing Strategy: Framework and Managerial Insights
www.igi-global.com/chapter/global-internet-marketing-strategy/19142?camid=4v1a

Soviet Influences on Latvian Attitudes Toward Information Technology
www.igi-global.com/article/soviet-influences-latvian-attitudes-toward/51318?camid=4v1a

Global Information Management Research: What have we Learned in the Past Decade?
www.igi-global.com/article/global-information-management-research/61416?camid=4v1a