Global Information Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan

Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Global information technologies: concepts, methodologies, tools and applications / Felix Tan, editor.

Summary: "This collection compiles research in all areas of the global information domain. It examines culture in information systems, IT in developing countries, global e-business, and the worldwide information society, providing critical knowledge to fuel the future work of researchers, academicians and practitioners in fields such as information science, political science, international relations, sociology, and many more"--Provided by publisher.

Includes bibliographical references and index.

303.48'33--dc22

2007039589

Copyright © 2008 by IGI Global. All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored or distributed in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, without written permission from the publisher.

Product or company names used in this set are for identification purposes only. Inclusion of the names of the products or companies does not indicate a claim of ownership by IGI Global of the trademark or registered trademark.

British Cataloguing in Publication Data
A Cataloguing in Publication record for this book is available from the British Library.