International Journal of Systems and Society (IJSS)

An Official Publication of the Information Resources Management Association
An Official Publication of the United Kingdom Systems Society (UKSS)

ISSN: 2327-3984; EISSN: 2327-3992

Established 2014; Published Semi-Annually

Editor(s)-in-Chief: Frank Stowell (University of Portsmouth, UK)

The International Journal of Systems and Society (IJSS) is dedicated to support and encourage the publication of high quality articles that promote the way in which systems ideas are used. Papers are encouraged from practitioners, systems researchers, and systems academics. The focus of the journal is on the use and development of systems ideas within society and less on literature reviews, although some instances may occur where such papers are accepted. The journal encourages field research and research into real situations. All papers undergo a double blind peer review process and the difference in style of practitioner papers from academic is acknowledged. In the long tradition of the Systemist, opinion papers are considered for publication at the discretion of the Editor-in-Chief.

Topics Covered:

- Critical systems
- Cybernetics and systems
- Environment
- Examples of systems theory that contribute to systems practice
- Management practice
- Modeling and numerical analysis
- Organizational interventions
- Organizational power
- Participatory methods
- Planning and decision support systems
- Social care
