Assessment and Evaluation of Time Factors in Online Teaching and Learning

Part of the Research Essentials Collection

Elena Barbera (eLearn Center, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya, Spain) and Peter Reimann (University of Sydney, Australia)

For online learning and other forms of distance learning, time management is vital. As a recognized social asset, time constitutes a consistent and complete new approach to online higher education.

Assessment and Evaluation of Time Factors in Online Teaching and Learning combines empirical and methodological research to study the role of time comprehensively from an institutional and management perspective, a technological perspective, and a pedagogical perspective. Focusing on higher education, this book is aimed at educational researchers, social science researchers, teachers, and students interested in improving the learning process and experience.

Topics Covered:
- Automatic Feedback Technologies
- Continuous Assessment Technologies
- Curricular Timings
- Institutional Flexibility
- Learning Support Structures
- Online Discourse
- Synchrony and Asynchrony

Market: This premier publication is essential for all academic and research library reference collections. It is a crucial tool for academicians, researchers, and practitioners. Ideal for classroom use.
