Library Showcase:
Norlin Library, University of Colorado –
Interview with John Culshaw

Completed by: Lisa Block
Date Completed: February 10, 2011

LOCATION ADDRESS

University Libraries
1720 Pleasant Street
University of Colorado
Boulder, CO 80309-0184

PROJECT INTRODUCTION

Norlin Library’s most popular spot, The Norlin Commons, features study rooms for groups and individuals, team technology rooms, a technology classroom, and the busiest computer workstations anywhere on campus.

Some project facts:

- The building has always been a challenge, it originally opened in 1940 and additions were done in 1960 and 1974.
- There are two entrances, one on west side near main quad and one on east side near plaza.
- Ten years ago they started planning the renovation.
- The new library is 330,000 gross square feet and cost $110 million.

DOI: 10.4018/978-1-4666-4739-8.ch026
Related Content

Introducing Discovery Systems to Academic User Communities: A Case Study with Recommendations
www.igi-global.com/chapter/introducing-discovery-systems-academic-user/67835?camid=4v1a

Online Research without E-Reference: What is Missing from Digital Libraries?
www.igi-global.com/chapter/online-research-without-reference/57914?camid=4v1a

Internationalization of LIS Education in India: ICT-Based Collaborative Approach www.igi-global.com/chapter/internationalization-of-lis-education-in-india/103093?camid=4v1a

Developing a Distributed Web Publishing System at CSU Sacramento Library: A Case Study of Coordinated Decentralization
www.igi-global.com/chapter/developing-distributed-web-publishing-system/7106?camid=4v1a