Global Information Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Felix B. Tan
Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand
Related Content

IS-Supported Managerial Control for China’s Research Community: An Agency Theory Perspective www.igi-global.com/chapter/supported-managerial-control-china-research/61772?camid=4v1a

A Research Manifesto for Global Information Management
www.igi-global.com/article/research-manifesto-global-information-management/51332?camid=4v1a

Internet Users’ Privacy Concerns and Beliefs About Government Surveillance: An Exploratory Study of Differences Between Italy and the United States www.igi-global.com/article/internet-users-privacy-concerns-beliefs/3645?camid=4v1a

Disintermediated Education
www.igi-global.com/chapter/disintermediated-education/8290?camid=4v1a