Designing Software–Intensive Systems: Methods and Principles

Pierre F. Tiako

Langston University, USA
Related Content

A Lightweight Measurement of Software Security Skills, Usage and Training Needs in Agile Teams
www.igi-global.com/article/a-lightweight-measurement-of-software-security-skills-usage-and-training-needs-in-agile-teams/179641?camid=4v1a

Integrating Patient Consent in e-Health Access Control
www.igi-global.com/article/integrating-patient-consent-health-access/55267?camid=4v1a

Graphical Modeling of Security Goals and Software Vulnerabilities
www.igi-global.com/chapter/graphical-modeling-of-security-goals-and-software-vulnerabilities/117918?camid=4v1a

Determinants of Personal Health Information Disclosure: A Case of Mobile Application
www.igi-global.com/article/determinants-of-personal-health-information-disclosure/191207?camid=4v1a